Black Star Update Report

Video Update

T's SubStack

Seismic event indicators say Earth is moving towards the end of the second Earth Change Uptick Period for the 2023 Earth orbit cycle relative to the Black Star positioned between the Sun and right side of the Scorpio Constellation.

N: Sun-Earth-Black Star Nearside Alignment (Earth passes between the two stars).

B: Earth-Sun-Black Star Backside Alignment (Earth passes behind the Sun relative to the Black Star).

O: Outside-orbital Position (Earth at 90-degree angle relative to the Sun and Black Star in Libra).

J: Jolt (gravitational (G) electromagnetic (E)).

U: Earth-change Uptick Period.

L: Earth-change Lull Period (currently 93+/- days between four-key-orbital-marker positions: diagram).

(*) Global-Tectonic-Reset Events*

Earth has seen 1601 days with 53 of the 7-magnitude earthquake events striking around the world (one every 30.2 days, was one every 34.4 days on 1.1.2023), when we should have seen 87.7 big quakes (NRC* one every 18.26 days) striking historically through the period. Seventeen of the 7+mag quakes in 334 days for 2023 gives us one 7+mag quake every 19.6 days with frequency just above the historical average.

Three of the 6-magnitude earthquake events for Week 38 gives us at least one 6-mag quake for 54 of the last 59 Weeks, when we see seven zeros in the previous 17 Weeks. That means we see just 12 zeros for the 6-mag quakes for the previous 110 weeks beginning on June 20, 2021, in Week 18 of the 2021 orbit cycle. We are now looking at 15 consecutive weeks with one or more of the 6-mag quakes with the current record being 51 weeks that ended in Week 15 of 2022. Thirty-two of the 5-mag quakes mark the 5th time with 30+ events in the last 9 Weeks, when that happened twice in the previous 14 Weeks. And 246 of the 2.5-to-4-mag quakes gives us the 23nd -300 value in 26 Weeks, which happened only 4 times in the previous 13 Weeks.

EQuake3D +2.5 Last 7 Days

Five harmonic tremors (info, adding magnetite to Superplume; including 4.6 Fiji) struck below the Fiji-side of the Indonesia-Fiji Seismic-Volcanic Origination Zone with four striking below the 520-km Discontinuity (info) in the earth mantle transition zone (wiki). Three deep quakes struck below the Indonesia-side of the Origination Zone (4.4 Indonesia) with deep-quake activity projected to shift north now that the new cycle has started. This 6.9 Mariana Islands quake (USGS) struck last Friday just north of the Origination Zone at 16-K below sea level with this 6.5 Papua New Guinea Quake (USGS) striking in the center of the Origination Zone at 8-K below sea level. This 4.4 Argentina Quake (USGS) struck near the Corridor 2 elbow-position at 564.1-K below sea level. Activity picked up at the Hawaii with most activity at crater depth (3.2) with some activity at reservoir depths (2.7) at the 8/2 ratio with just one quake striking in between (2.8). This 3.9 quake (USGS) is the strangest you will see reported at -0.4-K that is 400-500 yards above sea level (info), when the ocean floor is about two miles deep at that location (on map). Seismic activity has picked up at the Puerto Rico Swarm Area (including 3.0) with larger quakes striking to the west (4.1), northeast (3.8), and southeast (5.1).

Five deep quakes below the Fiji side are up from the four last week with nine, seven, six, eight, six, six, eleven, ten, three, ten, six, six, four, nine, nine, seven, eight, six, one, five, four, six, six, seven, three, five, six, nine, twelve, three, three, six, ten, six, five, twelve, seven, four, seven, eight, seven, eight,

What Is Smart Dust and How Is it Used?

Project Earth Scope Seeding of Nano Smart Dust and Nano Crystal Motes across USA

Image Courtesy: Exposure to Aerial Emissions of Nano Composite Materials Resulted in Cholinesterase Inhibition - Dr Hildegard Staninger presentation

I wanted to repost this article from nanowerk. The purpose is to inform the public how vast the use of this nanotechnology biosensing industry is. Smart dust has been sprayed via aerial spraying (“geoengineering”) for decades on our entire biosphere. This is one way that our bodies get contaminated with the self assembly nanotechnology. As it is used to wirelessly monitor and alter the environment, the same is true for humans.

What is smart dust and how is it used?

Imagine a cloud of sensors, each the size of a grain of sand or even smaller, blown aloft by hurricane winds and relaying data on the storm to weather stations below. Picture an invisible sensor network embedded into a smart city's roads to monitor traffic, road surface damage and identify available parking spaces – all in real time. Or billions of nanosensors distributed over forests and other areas with fire hazards to detect a fire at its very beginning. Or envision programmable smart dust that triggers an alarm signal when invisible microcracks are detected in a turbine blade.

Smart dust refers to wireless networks of sub-millimeter-scale autonomous computing and sensing platforms not larger than a grain of sand. Smart dust senses and records data about its environment such as light, temperature, sound, presence of toxins or vibrations, and transmits that data wirelessly to larger computer systems.

Smart dust is a vision of the networked future where intelligent networks of trillions of miniscule sensors continuously feel, taste, smell, see, and hear what is going on in their surrounding environment, communicate with each other and exchange information. Smart dust networks are the ultimate Internet-of-Things (IoT) devices.

DNA Contamination In COVID-19 Vaccines May Explain Rise in Cancers, Clots, Autoimmune Diseases: Pathologist

Submitted by Mr. Foto

WEDNESDAY, NOV 29, 2023 - 06:00 PM, Authored by Tom Ozimek and Jan Jekielek via The Epoch Times (emphasis ours),

Clinical pathologist Dr. Ryan Cole has said that DNA contamination in some COVID-19 vaccines may be related to an increase in cancers, micro-clotting, and autoimmune diseases.

"My big concern is the fact that billions of people across the earth have received a product that was overtly contaminated with something that should not have been in the product," Dr. Cole, an anatomic clinical pathologist with postgraduate Ph.D. training in immunology, recently told the "American Thought Leaders" program.

"If I went and bought some meat at the grocery store and they had heavy metal or pesticide toxins, they would pull those from the shelves immediately," he added.

A 6-year-old child is comforted by her mother as she receives her first dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine in Novi, Michigan, on Nov. 3, 2021. (Jeff Kowalsky/AFP via Getty Images)

Recently, researchers found that vaccine vials containing Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccines had billions of residual DNA fragments, including molecules derived from Simian Virus 40 (SV40) used as "promoters" or "enhancers" that help produce the mRNA molecules that help human cells make proteins that trigger an immune response inside the body.

Monkey Virus 'Enhancers' in Vaccines

SV40 is a monkey polyomavirus that has been linked to cancer in laboratory animals. While the virus itself was not found to be present in Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine, the presence of the SV40 enhancer gene is controversial because it comes from a virus associated with malignant transformation. However, some experts have raised concerns that the SV40 enhancer itself may be associated with adverse events.

Map Shows Countries Where Pneumonia Cases Are Rising After China Outbreak

Nov 29, 2023 at 12:24 PM EST, By Anna Skinner

Another country, the Netherlands, has reported a concerning rise in pneumonia cases among children following an outbreak of the illness in China. Many parts of China have been hit by the surprising surge in respiratory illnesses, which have particularly affected children. Northern provinces in China have experienced a jump in flu-like illnesses for five weeks straight since mid-October.

The fast spread of the coronavirus in 2020 prompted strict public health restrictions and quarantine measures. Several nations are on edge given China's recent uptick in respiratory illnesses. The ailments have strained China's hospital system and are reminiscent of the coronavirus outbreak, which originated in Wuhan in December 2019.

Chinese officials have since announced they believe the uptick is a combination of common illnesses like the flu and respiratory syncytial virus, which have spread easily after China recently relaxed its COVID-19 restrictions. Meanwhile, the Netherlands Institute for Health Services Research (NIVEL) has reported an uptick in pneumonia cases, particularly among children. In the past week, 80 out of every 100,000 children between ages 5 and 14 came down with pneumonia, The Messenger reported.

It is the country's largest pneumonia outbreak in several years, higher than the peak of flu season in 2022, when 60 pneumonia cases were recorded for every 100,000 children in the same age group. Newsweek reached out to NIVEL by email for comment.

Unrealized Losses at US Banks Exploded in Q3

Submitted by Marv

NOVEMBER 30, 2023 BY SCHIFFGOLD

Unrealized losses on securities held by US banks exploded by 22% in the third quarter.

Of course, unrealized losses don't really matter — until they do.

This is yet more evidence that the financial crisis that kicked off last March continues to bubble under the surface.

Unrealized losses, primarily on US Treasuries and mortgage-backed securities rose by $126 billion in Q3 and now total $684 billion, according to the FDIC's quarterly bank data release. See Chart

Current unrealized losses are only slightly below the record set in the third quarter of 2022. This reflects the fact that the FDIC took over three failed banks earlier this year and ate their unrealized losses when it sold the banks' assets, thus wiping them from the books.

Unrealized losses on securities are divided between two accounting methods.

- Unrealized losses on held-to-maturity (HTM) securities jumped by $81 billion to $391 billion.
- Unrealized losses on available-for-sale (AFS) securities jumped by $45 billion to $293 billion.

It's important to understand these are only paper losses. Ostensibly, the banks will hold these bonds until maturity and then will be paid their face value. If it plays out this way, there won't be any real losses.

The problem is that these unrealized losses drastically decrease a bank's liquidity. If it has to sell bonds in order to raise capital, the bank will experience significant losses. This is exactly what took down Silicon Valley Bank last March.

Here's what happened.

SVB sold a large portion of its bond portfolio at a $1.8 billion loss. At the time, SVB CEO Greg Becke said the bank made the sale "because we expect continued higher interest rates, pressured public and private markets, and elevated cash burn levels from our clients."

James Rickards: When Next Financial Crisis Hits, Elites Plan to Freeze The Financial System Worldwide

Submitted by Brenda

by Mac Slavo | Nov 28, 2023 | Headline News

When the planned financial collapse finally hits, the elites and globalists have big plans to freeze the entire financial system on a massive global scale. Back in 2017, James Rickards warned that there is a network of 189 people who are positioned in the world's financial systems that hold the fate of the global financial system in their hands.

James "Jim" Rickards is Chief Global Strategist for Meraglim, an investment company; the editor of Strategic Intelligence, a financial newsletter; and, Director of The James Rickards Project, an inquiry into the complex dynamics of geopolitics and global capital. He is the author of 'The New Case for Gold' (April 2016) and two New York Times bestsellers: 'The Death of Money' (2014), and 'Currency Wars' (2011). In 2016 he published another book 'The Road to Ruin'.

If we still somehow believe the ruling class will be looking out for us, we still aren't ready to evolve past being their slaves. Since ancient times the financial and political elite have had big goals of global domination and total control over every human being. Although the plan has changed hands countless times, its core goal has remained unchanged. The current generation of elites is the first with the technology to carry the plan out. In an interview with The Daily Reckoning in November 2017, Rickards exposed the elites' plans in full, and technology will be the cornerstone of their control scheme.

The next financial crisis will not be merely a bigger version of the 1998 and 2008 crises, it will be qualitatively different. It will encompass multiple asset classes on a global scale. It will exhibit inflation not seen since the 1970s, insolvency not seen since the 1930s and exchange shutdowns not seen since 1914. State power will be summoned to contain panic. Capitalism will be discredited once and for all. —James Rickards, The Road To Ruin

Air Travel Is More Miserable Than Ever. This Fits a Concerning Agenda.

Submitted by Brenda

NOVEMBER 29, 2023, By Marie Hawthorne

Moving where you want in pursuit of career opportunities and adventure has been part of the American psyche for a long time. My family has been like that for decades, with the end result that we are now really, really scattered. We still like each other; we often travel to see each other for the holidays thanks to air travel. My dad has been traveling for work for a long time and has always been generous with frequent-flyer miles to any family member tight on cash. The airlines have made a lot of money from my extended family. Until now.

Sure, everyone's getting slammed by inflation. But that's only part of it. Even if we could afford the tickets themselves, none of us can afford the uncertainty that comes with frequent delays. And delays seem to be getting worse all the time. Is air travel measurably worse?

Is this just due to a lack of balance between supply and demand, as people want to fly more but airlines struggle to re-hire all those folks laid off during lockdowns? Might there be other forces at work that want to make air travel miserable? I know we all have lots of horrible anecdotes, but let's look at some data.

Lending Tree posted a table of historic delay and cancellation rates over the past ten years. In 2014, 21.99% of flights were delayed. That percentage dropped below 20% in 2015, and stayed between 15 and 19% through 2019. In 2020 and 2021, delayed flights fell below 11%, though those two years were flukes because of the lockdown-induced collapse in demand.

In 2022, though, delayed flights were back up to nearly 20%, and this year 21.60% of flights have been delayed so far. But why is air travel so messed up? There is not one thing that explains all the misery. Some folks are blaming climate change. But a more compelling reason is the severe labor shortage. In 20 out of 26 critical control traffic towers, staffing is well below the FAA's required 85% threshold. Airlines are short 17,000 pilots, 12,800 certified mechanics, and 3000 air traffic controllers.

Migrants say they were kicked out of Chicago Police station and into frigid cold

Submitted by Karen

BY MARYBEL GONZALEZ, NOVEMBER 29, 2023

CHICAGO (CBS) -- Migrants who were staying at the Calumet (5th) District police station in the Pullman community say they were left to spend the night outside in frigid temperatures Tuesday night. They told us they were forced to leave and take their belongings with them.

As CBS 2's Marybel González reported Tuesday night, the moment the migrants were ordered to leave was caught on camera. Earlier, some were grabbing their belongings from the lobby, and although some were going in and out of the station, they said they were not allowed to spend the night indoors.

The video sent to CBS 2 appears to show a captain from the Calumet District telling migrants staying in the lobby of the police station at 727 E. 111th St. to leave.

"This is not a game," the captain is heard saying. "I want everybody out this station, out this lobby... all this junk out of here." Volunteers who work with migrants at the police station said this came after some of the asylum seekers were taken to a shelter Tuesday.

According to the volunteers, those who didn't go to the shelter were told by the police captain that they could no longer sleep in the lobby - despite the frigid temperatures.

Some of the migrants we spoke to said there was no more room for them. Others said they didn't want to stay at a shelter – and they said the order to clear out felt like retaliation for staying.

We asked Chicago Police about the video and if their policy on allowing migrants to sleep in their lobbies has changed.

Local media has reported health facilities as being 'overwhelmed with sick children'.

However, China's health ministry claims it can cope with the spike in sickness, which sparked global panic last week when news of the situation emerged.

China's Property Lifeline Exposes Banks to Big Losses, Job Cuts

(Bloomberg) -- China's escalating push to have its banking behemoths backstop struggling property firms is adding to a maelstrom of woes for the $57 trillion sector.

Already stung by soaring bad loans and record low net interest margins, lenders such as Industrial and Commercial Bank of China Ltd. may soon be asked for the first time to provide unsecured loans to developers, many of whom are in default or teetering on the brink of collapsing.

Economist Steve Hanke: US Dollar Weaponization Has Powered Record Central Bank Gold Purchases

Submitted by Marv

by Sergio Goschenko, November 28, 2023

Steve Hanke, professor of applied economics at Johns Hopkins University, has discussed how U.S. policies have driven central bank gold purchases to record levels this year. In an interview, Hanke stated that these purchases were motivated by the weaponization of fiat currencies like the dollar, which has driven countries in “de-dollarization mode” to take refuge in gold.

Steve Hanke Believes Rise in Central Bank Gold Purchases Has to Do With U.S. Dollar Weaponization

Professor of Applied Economics at Johns Hopkins University Steve Hanke, a Bitcoin critic and dollarization proponent, has given his take on the return of gold as a reserve currency for central banks. In a recent interview on Jesse Day’s Commodity Culture, Hanke revealed his position about the future of gold as a reserve asset and how U.S. policies have influenced a rise in central bank gold purchases.

Hanke believes that the recent rise in U.S. sanctions, the weaponization of the U.S. dollar, and a climate of uncertainty have caused central banks to purchase gold at record levels.

He explained:

You never exactly know what these central banks are going to do, but the trend right now is a lot of central bank buying, and the reason behind this is that there is a lot of uncertainty, everything has become more politicized in the realm of fiat money.

As a result, central banks that had not been players in the gold market have now risen as significant buyers, more so those that are in what Hanke calls “de-dollarization mode” and want to reduce their exposure to the U.S. dollar due to the increasing enactment of sanctions.

64 US Bank Branches File to Shut Down in a Single Week; Are You Affected?

Submitted by Brenda

By Naveen Athrappully, NOVEMBER 27, 2023

Big banks such as PNC Bank and JPMorgan Chase have filed to close several branch offices in multiple states amid a troubling pattern of rising branch shutdowns in recent years.

Between Nov. 12 and 18, several banks filed to close branch locations, with PNC Bank with the most filings, according to data from the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Pittsburgh-based PNC Bank filed for 19 branch closures—five in Pennsylvania, four in Illinois, three in Texas, two each in Alabama and New Jersey, and one each in Indiana, Ohio, and Florida.

JPMorgan Chase followed closely with 18 filings—three in Ohio, two each in Connecticut and South Carolina, and one each in 11 states, including New York, Illinois, Florida, and Massachusetts.

Citizens Bank came in third with eight branch closure filings—six in New York, and one each in Massachusetts and Delaware. Minneapolis-based U.S. Bank filed for seven closures—three in Tennessee and one each in Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Illinois.

Bank of America made five filings—two in New York and one each in Texas, Massachusetts, and California.

Citibank filed for two branch closures, and Sterling, Bremer, First National Bank of Hughes Springs, Windsor FS&LA, and Aroostook County FS&LA made one filing each.

Altogether, banks filed to shut down 64 branches.

The recent closures are part of a long-term branch shutdown trend that has been ongoing over the past several years. A report from the National Community Reinvestment Coalition shows that between 2017 and 2021, 9 percent of all bank branches shut down. The closure rate doubled during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Hochul's Quarantine Camp Regulation Reinstated by Appeals Court in New York

Submitted by Brenda

Watch Terral's Monday Report Video (11.27.2023): <https://www.brighteon.com/bae7bbc2-bc44-4fe9-9b14-129765201cf6>

NOVEMBER 20, 2023, By Michael Kane

New York Governor Kathy Hochul's quarantine camp regulation that would allow the seizure and indefinite detention of anyone suspected of exposure to a communicable disease was restored on Friday by a decision of the New York Appellate Division's Fourth Judicial Department. The Appellate Division overturned a lower court's decision issued last July by Judge Ronald Ploetz who had voided the Governor's rule.

The Appellate Division panel of judges asserted that the plaintiffs, several current and former New York State legislators and a citizen's group, did not have legal standing to sue the State, arguing that none of the plaintiffs had sustained personal injury as a result of the regulation.

The panel dodged the substantive Constitutional issues raised by the plaintiffs and affirmed by the lower court. Hochul's regulation radically diverges from the written letter of the law regarding quarantines to such an extent that the plaintiffs argued that the regulation amounts to any entirely new law imposed by the Governor without action by the legislature.

Hochul's regulation would allow public health officers to arrest people suspected of having been exposed to a communicable disease, which in the age of COVID means everybody at any time, with no need for proof of infection, no hearing, no magistrate, and no legal counsel for the accused, no due process, all explicitly required by the quarantine law. The accused could be held for an indefinite period at the health department's discretion contrary to the law's requirement that quarantine can only last as long as a person is actively infectious. In the original trial before Judge Ploetz, counsel for the State admitted that once arrested there is no mechanism under the regulation to compel the state to release a detained person other than the detained person hiring a lawyer and suing the state.

Bobbie Anne Cox, attorney for the plaintiffs, has already announced that she will file an appeal with the New York Court of Appeals, the State's highest court. See her statement on the new court decision here.

Hackers Hijack Industrial Control System at US Water Utility

Submitted by Karen

By Eduard Kovacs, November 27, 2023

Municipal Water Authority of Aliquippa in Pennsylvania confirms that hackers took control of a booster station, but says no risk to drinking water or water supply.

The Municipal Water Authority of Aliquippa in Pennsylvania has confirmed that hackers took control of a system associated with a booster station over the weekend, but said there was no risk to the water supply.

The company provides water and sewer services to more than 6,600 customers in Aliquippa and portions of Hopewell, Raccoon and Potter Townships. A representative of the water utility told KDKA-TV that the compromised system is associated with a booster station that monitors and regulates water pressure for Raccoon and Potter Townships.

An alarm quickly alerted the Aliquippa utility of the intrusion and the compromised system was disabled. The water facility's representative said there was no known risk to the water supply or drinking water. An Iran-linked hacktivist group calling itself Cyber Av3ngers has taken credit for the attack. The anti-Israel hackers appear to have targeted an industrial control system (ICS) made by Israeli company Unitronics.

An image posted by KDKA-TV suggests that the hackers took control of an Unitronics Vision system, which is a programmable logic controller (PLC) with an integrated human-machine interface (HMI). Unitronics Vision products have been known to be affected by critical vulnerabilities that could expose devices to attacks.

On the other hand, HMIs are often left exposed to the internet and are accessible without authentication, making them an easy target even for low-skilled threat actors. The Cyber Av3ngers group claims to have breached the systems of many water treatment stations in Israel since the Israel-Hamas conflict escalated on October 7.

However, the hackers have been known to exaggerate the impact of their attacks and have even been found to publish fake data and claim it was stolen from a targeted organization. Hacktivist groups often target ICS because they are well aware of the potential implications of hacking these types of devices and it helps them draw more attention to their cause.

Hostilities could spread beyond the east and south of the country, the general in charge of border defense told ABC

The frontiers of the Ukrainian conflict could expand if Russia continues to increase arms production while Kiev's troops are deprived of advanced weapons from Western allies, Lieutenant General Sergey Naev told ABC News.

Naev, who is in charge of Ukraine's northern border defense, said on Saturday that the battle between Ukraine and Russia had become a "resource war," noting that the reduction of Western military aid will have a serious impact on the defense capabilities of the Ukrainian Army.

He claimed that Russia is getting its resources with the help of North Korea and Iran. He also pointed out that "technology is critical," warning that if Moscow produces more weapons and improves technologically with the help of its allies, hostilities could spread beyond the east and south of Ukraine.

Iran has denied accusations of supplying Russia with military drones for use in its military operations in Ukraine. However, Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amirabdollahian admitted that some drones had been delivered to Russia before the Ukraine conflict escalated in February 2022.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov also denied Western allegations of munitions shipments from North Korea to Russia, noting that "they report it all the time, but provide no evidence."

Since June, Ukraine has been conducting a counteroffensive, but has yet to make any significant gains on the battlefield. In late October, Zelensky told the Times that "nobody" believes in Kiev's victory as much as he does, while "exhaustion with the war rolls along like a wave."

In a world mired in deceit and chaos, the rise of Quantum Financial Systems and the covert Project Odin stands as a beacon of hope. Unfolding beneath our very eyes, Project Odin is not just a digital tool; it's the harbinger of a new age, an age where darkness will be exposed, and the shackles of oppression will be shattered.

This exclusive exposé delves deep into the secret realms of Quantum Starlink, Project Odin, and how they are set to revolutionize our world. Prepare yourself, for what you are about to read may change your perspective forever.

The Quantum Financial Systems (QFS) and the enigmatic Project Odin stand poised to challenge the age-old tyranny of clandestine controllers. As you embark on this journey, steel yourself, for you are about to be thrust into a vortex of conspiracy, revelation, and rebellion.

In your most daring imaginings, have you ever pictured a world where the sinister chains of corruption, manipulation, and covert control are shattered? This isn't just a figment of the imagination; it's the imminent reality heralded by the Quantum Financial Systems (QFS).

The QFS is no ordinary financial tool. It's a beacon of hope in an increasingly opaque world. When we speak of quantum mechanics, we invoke the immense power and unpredictability of atoms and subatomic particles. And in marrying this with our financial structures, we're talking about an unstoppable force against the dark cabal's machinations.

Mount Anak Krakatau erupts, sparks panic

Submitted by New

Laila Afifa, Tempo.co, Mon, 27 Nov 2023 10:50 UTC

Mount Anak Krakatau, situated in the waters of the Sunda Strait, South Lampung Regency, erupted again this afternoon, Nov. 27, sending a massive ash plume approximately 2,000 meters above the summit or around 2,157 meters above the sea level.

According to the Volcanology and Geological Disaster Mitigation Center (PVMBG), the eruption occurred on Monday at 11.43 a.m. local time and was recorded on a seismogram with a maximum amplitude of 77 millimeters for 116 seconds. The thick gray-black ash column was moving northwest.

The volcano had earlier erupted at 9:32 a.m., spewing ash columns about 1,500 meters above the summit or 1,657 meters above sea level.

Andi Suardi, the head of the volcano's monitoring post in Rajabasa District, confirmed the eruptions. He called on people and fishermen to stay clear of the volcano within a five-kilometer radius. The nearest settlement to the volcano is on Sebesi Island, 16.5 kilometers away.

One of the residents of Sebesi Island Village, Udi claimed that the eruption followed by a loud rumbling sound sparked panic among the people. "We, the people of Sebesi Island Village, could not sleep since last night because the rumbling sound was loud like the sound of thunder," said Udi.

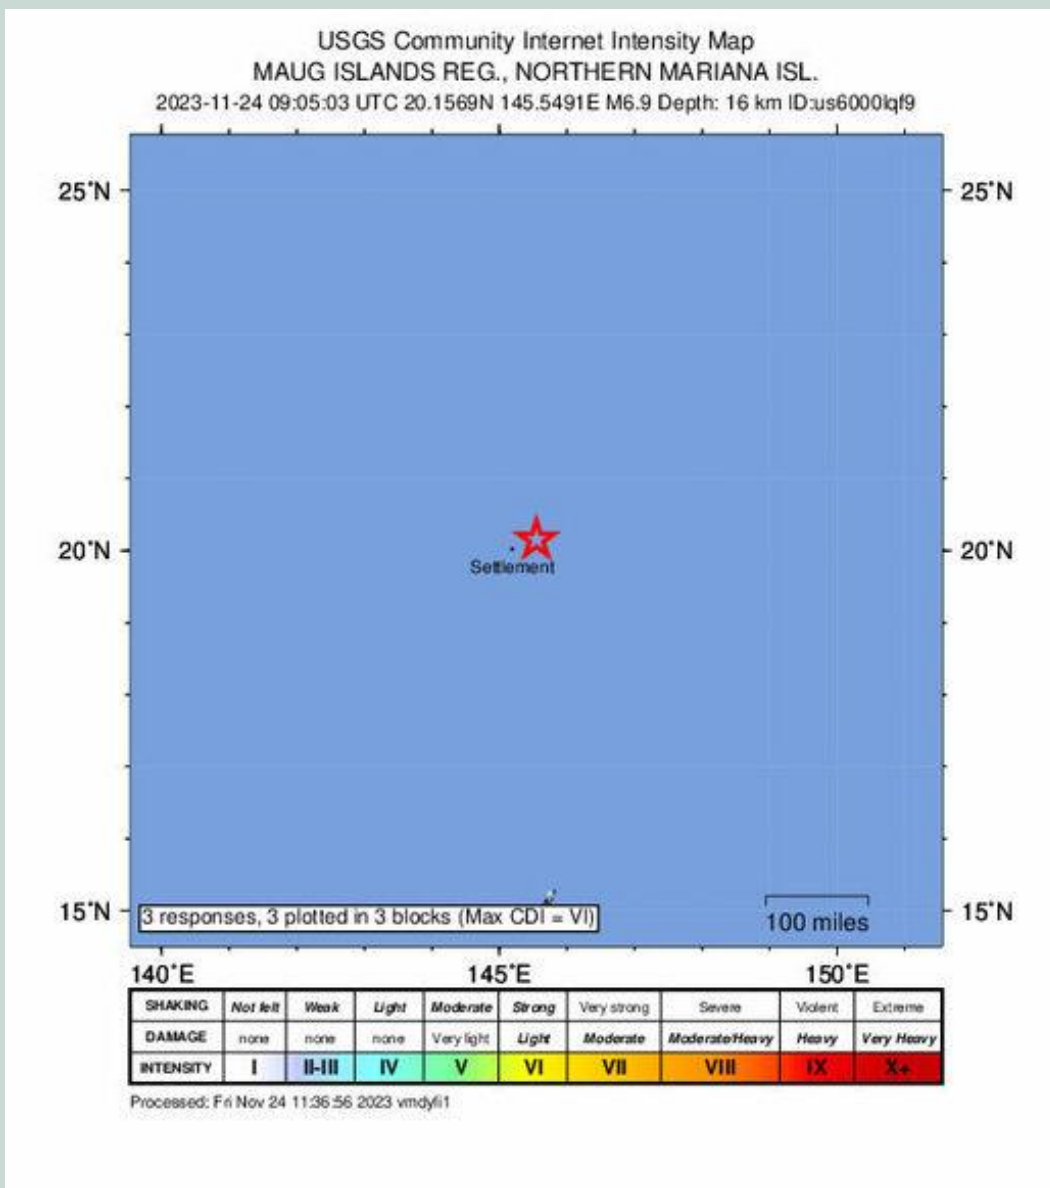

Mount Anak Krakatau has erupted nine times from Sunday morning, Nov. 26, to Monday afternoon, Nov. 27. Andi also confirmed that the volcano is currently at alert level III or Siaga.

No tsunami threat from shallow magnitude 6.9 quake that shook Marianas Islands

Submitted by New

Adrian Parungao Inquirer.net Fri, 24 Nov 2023 11:56 UTC

There is no threat of a tsunami in the Philippines after a magnitude 6.9 earthquake rocked the Mariana Islands in the northwestern part of Pacific Ocean, state seismologists said.

According to Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology (Phivolcs), the earthquake in the Marianas had a depth of focus of 10 kilometers.

"No destructive tsunami threat exists based on available data," Phivolcs said.

"This is for information purposes only and there is no tsunami threat to the Philippines from this earthquake," it noted.

The agency added there are no recommended actions after the tremor.

Shallow magnitude 6.7 earthquake hits Vanuatu

Submitted by New

Samaa.tv Wed, 22 Nov 2023 13:20 UTC

A magnitude 6.7 earthquake struck northern Vanuatu on Wednesday, the United States Geological Survey said, but authorities said it was not expected to trigger a tsunami.

The quake had a depth of 22 kilometers (14 miles), hitting about 300 km north of the capital Port Vila at around 3:37 pm (0447 GMT).

Centered near a sparsely populated cluster of islands, the USGS said there was a "low likelihood of casualties and damage" from the tremor.

A hotel receptionist in Port Olry, some 98 kilometers (60 miles) from the epicenter, told AFP she felt a "little earthquake" and "saw the ground shaking" but was not aware of any damage.

The Pacific Tsunami Warning Center said there was "no tsunami threat from this earthquake".

Earthquakes are common in Vanuatu, a low-lying archipelago of 320,000 people who straddle the seismic Ring of Fire.

The Ring of Fire is an arc of intense tectonic activity that stretches through Southeast Asia and across the Pacific basin.

At least seven people were killed in April this year when a 7.0-magnitude quake hit a jungle-clad area in Papua New Guinea.

World's biggest iceberg starts moving for first time in decades — and it could cause some serious problems

Submitted by New

Peter Aitken Fox News Sat, 25 Nov 2023 20:48 UTC

© European Union/Copernicus Sentinel-3/Handout via Reuter A satellite image of the world's largest iceberg, named A23a, is seen in Antarctica on Nov. 15

Iceberg A23a is nearly 1,500 square miles in area and weighs about a trillion metric tons

The world's largest iceberg has moved for the first time in 30 years after finally freeing itself from the ocean floor near Antarctica — and it could end up causing problems for wildlife.

Iceberg A23a "calved," or fell off the greater glacier on the continent, from the western side of the Ronne Ice Shelf and floated in the Weddell Sea before it ended up caught on the ocean floor in 1986. The piece of ice, at a size of 1,500 square miles and weighing nearly a trillion metric tons, is about three times the size of New York City.

The size makes it the world's largest iceberg in the world, only briefly losing the title to iceberg A76 before that iceberg split into three fragments.

The iceberg's trajectory will see it leave Antarctic shallows and enter the greater Southern Ocean, moving along a path known as "iceberg alley" where other chunks remain.

Famous explorer Sir Ernest Shackleton followed this same path when he made his escape from the area in 1916 after losing his ship to an ice crush, according to the BBC.

Glaciologists and climatologists have tracked the iceberg's movement with satellite imagery, allowing them to closely mark its trajectory. They have discerned the iceberg is accelerating as it travels out from the shore.

British Antarctic Survey glaciologist Oliver Marsh told Reuters that the iceberg could have finally dislodged from its spot on the ocean floor after thinning for the past few decades, giving it a "little bit of extra buoyancy" that has also allowed it to pick up speed faster than scientists would have anticipated.

Shallow 6.5 magnitude earthquake strikes north of Papua New Guinea

Submitted by New

Hindustan Times Tue, 28 Nov 2023 11:19 UTC

A shallow, 6.5-magnitude earthquake struck off the northern coast of Papua New Guinea on Tuesday, the US Geological Survey said, but no tsunami warning was issued.

The quake hit about 20 kilometres (12 miles) off the coast, a short distance from the town of Wewak, capital of the Pacific island state's East Sepik Province.

The epicentre was detected at an estimated depth of 12 kilometres (seven miles) at 8:46 am local time (2146 GMT Monday), the USGS said.

There is "no tsunami threat", the Pacific Tsunami Warning Centre said in a separate bulletin.

Earthquakes are common in Papua New Guinea, which sits on top of the seismic "Ring of Fire" -- an arc of intense tectonic activity that stretches through Southeast Asia and across the Pacific basin.

Although they seldom cause widespread damage in the sparsely populated jungle highlands, they can trigger destructive landslides.

At least seven people were killed in April this year when a 7.0-magnitude quake hit a jungle-clad area in the country's interior.

India Tunnel Collapse: Why It Took 17 Days To Rescue 41 Trapped Workers Submitted by New

Weather.com, By Associated Press, November 28, 2023

The rescue mission was expected to last only a few days. Instead, it took 17 days to reach 41 construction workers who were trapped when a landslide collapsed a mountain tunnel in northern India earlier this month.

The excruciating wait finally ended at nightfall on Tuesday, as temperatures dropped near the accident site in the mountainous state of Uttarakhand. Everyone was pulled out alive.

But beyond the jubilation and relief, questions remain as to why what became one of the most significant and complicated rescue operations in India's recent history — aided by international tunneling experts and spearheaded by multiple rescue agencies — took so long.

How The Rescue Unfolded

News of the trapped workers spread fast after a Nov. 12 early morning landslide caused a portion of the 2.8-mile Silkyara Tunnel they were building near the town of Uttarkashi in Uttarakhand state to collapse about 650 feet from the entrance.

Heavy rains pounded the streets of Kenyan coastal city of Mombasa, with some passengers evacuated from a flooded bus by holding on to a rope amid chest-high water.

Others stood on top of the bus with umbrellas and raincoats as they waited for their turn to pull themselves to safety in Kisauni district, nearly 500 km (310 miles) from the capital Nairobi.

At least 46 people have died in flood-related incidents in Kenya since the rainy season began less than a month ago, according to aid group Save the Children. The toll is expected to rise.

Uruguay: Over 3 thousand people displaced by flooding

Submitted by New

telesurenglish.net, Sun, 26 Nov 2023 13:55 UTC

At present, 3,442 displaced persons remain. In the northwest region, over 3 thousand people have been displaced from their homes due to the flooding caused by the overflow of the Uruguay river.

The National Water Directorate of the Ministry of Environment forecasts that the level of the river will rise in the department of Salto in the next few days in the range of five to 10 centimeters per day and the probability of reaching up to 14.40 meters.

At present, 3,442 displaced persons remain: 249 are evacuated and 3,193 are self-evident. Of that total, 179 are in Artigas, 1,170 in Salto and 2,093 in Paysandú says the Uruguayan government on its official website.

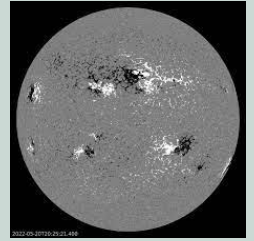

In each department, the Departmental Emergency Committees (CDE) through the Departmental Emergency Coordination Centers (CECOED) provide comprehensive care for evacuees, added the authorities.

The State Sanitary Works (OSE) authorized 100% exemption from fixed charges and variable charges for drinking water and sanitation. Other of the emergency measures taken by the Uruguayan State are the distribution educational materials for the educational recreation of children in the context of emergency.

The National Power Plant and Power Transmission Administration (UTE, public company of the Energy) authorized measures ranging from: 10% daily discounts on invoices up to 100% based on previous month's consumption; extension of the invoice due date; free reconnection of deleted services; and free installation of differential keys.

Pit bull attack claims man's life in Lutzville, South Africa

Submitted by New

Nicola Daniels IOL Wed, 22 Nov 2023 12:42 UTC

Police are investigating a case of culpable homicide after pit bulls attacked a 47-year-old man in Lutzville.

Johannes Lewis, affectionately known as "Bam", had a mental disability. His family said the brutal attack had left them in shock.

Lewis's brother-in-law, Gert Flink, said: "He always woke up early and took a walk around the house. On Sunday he woke up early and walked around the outside of the house as is his habit. "Before they bit another two men, the one guy ran through the neighbor's backyard and into our property.

What we think happened is that the man tried to escape the dogs (but) when he came around the back of the yard they caught up and they attacked Bam in front of the door before he could get inside the house. Image.

"They were so brutal that nobody could really do anything. My sister-in-law woke up, she saw the dogs were biting him but she could not do anything otherwise they would attack her too. The neighbor's son threw the dogs with stones, then the sister-in-law could get Bam into the house.

Antarctica's ancient ice sheets foreshadow dynamic changes in Earth's future

Submitted by Terral

by Will Cushman, University of Wisconsin-Madison, NOVEMBER 29, 2023

Nineteen million years ago, during a time known as the early Miocene, massive ice sheets in Antarctica rapidly and repeatedly grew and receded. The Miocene is widely considered a potential analog for Earth's climate in the coming century, should humanity remain on its current carbon emissions trajectory.

Identifying how and why Antarctica's major ice sheets behaved the way they did in the early Miocene could help inform understanding of the sheets' behavior under a warming climate. Together, the ice sheets lock a volume of water equivalent to more than 50 meters of sea level rise and influence ocean currents that affect marine food webs and regional climates. Their fate has profound consequences for life nearly everywhere on Earth.

While fluctuations in Antarctica's ice sheets have, over the span of millions of years, grown and diminished at regular intervals tied to natural oscillations in Earth's journey in orbit, researchers at the University of Wisconsin–Madison and their collaborators around the world have uncovered evidence that Antarctica's ice sheets grew and shrank more frequently during the Miocene epoch than was previously known.

Distant stars spotted for the first time in the vast Magellanic Stream

Artist's rendition of the Magellanic Stellar Stream. The Milky Way's nearest neighboring galaxies—the Small and Large Magellanic Clouds—are shown on the right side of the illustration. As these galaxies move to the right, the gaseous Magellanic Stream billows behind them, intertwining and stretching across the southern sky. For nearly fifty years, astronomers have come up empty-handed in their search for stars within the sprawling structure known as the Magellanic Stream. A colossal ribbon of gas, the Magellanic Stream spans nearly 300 moon diameters across the Southern Hemisphere's sky, trailing behind the Magellanic Cloud galaxies, two of our Milky Way galaxy's closest cosmic neighbors.

Now, the star search is finally over. Researchers at the Center for Astrophysics | Harvard & Smithsonian (CfA) and colleagues have identified 13 stars whose distances, motion, and chemical makeup place the stars squarely within the enigmatic stream.

Chicago mayor targets Lightfoot, 'right-wing extremism' for 'chaos' in Chicago

Chicago has seen an estimated 20K migrants since last year

Chicago Mayor Brandon Johnson said he "inherited" the Windy City's migrant crisis from his predecessor, former Mayor Lori Lightfoot, during a press conference touting construction of the city's first government-run migrant tent encampment.

"Look, the international crisis that I inherited six months ago, I've made it very clear that we are going to make sure that we remove people out of police districts: women, children who are living on floors and sleeping outside, that we're going to create spaces that provide more dignity," Johnson said Tuesday.

At least 20,000 migrants have poured into Chicago since August 2022, when many migrants were bused from the southern border states to liberal cities farther north. Efforts have been underway to strip Chicago of its sanctuary city status as some residents sound off about the issue.

In addition to the influx of migrants who lack shelter, an estimated 68,000 Chicago citizens are considered homeless, Fox News Digital reported earlier this month.

US housing market has 'big hole' to dig out of, Realtor.com chief economist says

New home construction is a 'multiyear problem,' according to Realtor.com chief Danielle Hale

After a few years of recurring obstacles in the real estate industry, homebuyers are being presented with another challenge: a housing inventory shortage. "We've got a big hole to dig out of," Realtor.com chief economist Danielle Hale said while discussing the volume of new homes being built during "Mornings with Maria" Wednesday.

"We do expect to see single-family construction tick up next year by about 0.4%. So not a huge gain, but construction right now is on the upper end of what we've seen it do over the last, really since 2012," she explained. Hale remains optimistic about the new unit inventory, arguing the industry will see an improvement, but said it's a "multiyear problem."

"So, if we took all that construction and put it towards filling that deficit, it's going to take us a few years to build out," she expressed. As the industry grapples with an inventory shortage of new homes, the idea of owning a home for some first-time buyers remains a distant reality.

"Our October data shows listing prices were flat," Hale told FOX Business, adding that home prices over the past couple of months have "waffled." Confidence among builders in the U.S. housing market plunged for the third straight month in October as a spike in mortgage rates continued to weigh on consumer demand for new homes.

Health-related Questions and Answers

Hey Terral, I've been emailing someone whose partner passed away from ALS. I'm wondering about nano silver? Do you think it could cure ALS? Off the record. I know you cannot give health advice. I'd be curious to know other opinions. David

Hi David:

Thank you for writing. There is no known cure for the genetic disease to my knowledge. The body makes bad copies of the genetic code and keeps making bad copies. The Nano Silver - Sodium Borate regimen provides dozens of health benefits that may help underlying conditions that exacerbate the degenerative condition. That would depend on a range of factors, so there is no one answer for all cases. Everyone should be on the regimen for neutralizing bioweapon threats. Think things through to realize what happens inside the body with the spike protein and vax components destroying the body from the inside out. Anyone with ALS not on the regimen will see their body deteriorate faster than those among us on the regimen. I would be taking 1000 mg of L-Lysine twice each day to help the body repair itself up to 4 times faster. Blessings, Terral

Crohn's in my 14 y.o. daughter

On Wed, Sep 13, 2023 at 7:16 PM Charles wrote:

Terral, Just got the news today. The follow up is in 2 weeks. Doctors are going to want to put her on medication. I vehemently abhor that idea. Ex will side with the Docs if I can't convince her otherwise. But I couldn't find any natural remedies online even through Brave or on Brighteon. Any guidance you could give would be greatly appreciated. Thank you! God Bless, Charles

Hi Charles: Thank you for writing. I am assuming that your daughter is on the Nano Silver - Sodium Borate regimen, which helps if a Norovirus is the culprit. There is a lot that doctors do not understand about Crohn's Disease that makes devising a treatment plan more difficult. I would keep my kid on the regimen in combination with morning and evening doses of L-Lysine (amino acid) that helps the body heal up to 4 times faster. For me, I would also be taking Echinacea that cleans the blood to also help the body heal faster. The key is to build up the body faster than it breaks down. If your daughter is not on the Nano Silver - Sodium Borate regimen, then having the bioweapon components cycling through her body is making her condition worse. Make sure that you are doing the research to have her on the right diet while avoiding certain foods, while eliminating stress from the environment. The wrong combination of conditions can make her symptoms flare up and become worse to find her on a slippery slope and a downward spiral leading to additional health-related complications and symptoms. Whatever you and the wife do, do not argue about your daughter's health condition with her in hearing distance. The symptoms will likely go up and down in cycles depending on a range of factors, which means she is more sensitive at times and less at other times. Hopefully you can right the ship, so she has a normal life with little in the way of symptoms. Blessings, Terral

Hi Vas:

Thank you for writing. Below is the information I sent to Andy. Your two big enemies are dehydration and inactivity. You want a vibrating pad for your favorite chair (like this). The idea is to shake the forming stones loose before they grow large enough to block the ureter and trigger hydronephrosis. There is a low-tech method for passing the smaller stones that get impacted in the ureter that requires imbibing a lot of water and changing your body positions (standing on your head, vibration, then returning to your feet; back and forth) I know, sounds weird). I pressurized my entire system using a 16-French Foley Catheter (with the inflatable bulb using syringe, thigh pressure cuff over a 3-liter saline bag) to remove all of my stones. Most people cannot imagine catheterizing themselves and performing the procedure. If your stones are small (Less than 5mm), then lots of water and vibration can help you pass them all. Your problem is likely on your right side, as that ureter is shorter. Anyway, read the info below.

Blessings,

Terral

Nano-silver info by Tony Pantalleresco - HAVE WE ALL BEEN DUPED?? please review

Written by Terral and Agnieszka

December 11, 2022

Dear Terral,

I have been recently purchased nano-silver from you for my family here in the US and for my Mom in Poland. A few days ago I stumbled upon a video by Tony Pantalleresco, and I think it might be good for you to see it and maybe forward to any experts you might know in the field who can (hopefully) refute it.

The info Pantalleresco is bringing forth is alarming to say the least, and if true we are in big trouble. I have been looking for effective and natural remedies and health solutions for years, and quite truthfully I am not sure what to think anymore. Would you mind reviewing the first 35 mins of the video below (he speaks of several popular health remedies in the 35 mins, nano-silver included) and also reading the linked document and letting me know what you think? And what the nano-silver experts think? This is scary. Have we all been duped??

Thank you! Sincerely, Agnieszka

Terral's reply (12.11.2022):

Hi Agnieszka:

Thank you for writing. I read page 10 of your PDF and have seen everything presented here in other propaganda-like articles/papers. The global pharmaceutical cartels pay doctors and researchers to produce this kind of documentation to keep people dependent on their man-made drugs. The keywords that raise red flags in this kind of disinformation include the terms "can" (used 58 times) and "could" (used 22 times). For example:

It has been shown that Ag NPs could come across through and be accumulated in brain microvessel vascular endothelial cells.

Yes. We need the Nano Silver particles to be smaller than 10nm to pass through the blood-brain barrier for neutralizing the bioweapon threat. And yes, there is a possibility that particles can accumulate in certain people with specific underlying conditions and particularly where inflammation exists. That condition would constrict blood flow by narrowing the capillaries in people with Alzheimer's Disease caused by the buildup of proteins in and around the brain. However, the fact that this "can" and "could" happen has nothing whatsoever to do with 99.9+ percent of the general population. For me, Doug and his wife (in their 80's) have been using the same Nano Silver (5nm particle size) created in my lab daily for the last 50 years.

<https://pubs.acs.org/doi/10.1021/es103316q>

Here is a link to general information. Note that about 320 tons of Nano Silver are produced each year. That is a lot of Nano Silver.

Watch Nano Silver Webinar Presentation

I am assuming that you have watched the Norwegian lady's Webinar presentation. You can go online and find evidence to support whatever hypothesis you wish to believe since there are propaganda artists out there working every day for Big Pharma. If you are a Bible person: Doing this research is like consulting the Sanhedrin in Christ's day on the topic of the Resurrection. Those wanting to believe in the Resurrection simply ask a Pharisee, while those wanting to be convinced otherwise go to the Sadducees. Everyone gets the right answer in their minds, even though the answers are opposite and directly opposing.

BTW, I have been listening to your video interview and Tony is going on and on about the dangers of "nano," as what appears to be characterizations of "nanotechnology" in general. We can agree that the Global Bankster Cartel and Rothschild-Rockefeller-Gates Eugenics have been using nanotechnology against the Sheeple for a very long time like the CRISPR technology here recently. We can agree that the Elite are using nanotechnology components against us in PlanDemic and their bioweapons and bioweapon vax. That is precisely the reason we need Nano Silver for neutralizing the threats, which amounts to fighting fire with fire.

Then, you ask, "Have We All Been Duped?" No, but some among us are being duped by disinformation propaganda. So, suppose you become convinced that Nano Silver is bad because all Nano is bad. What alternative countermeasures do you have in your medical toolbox for stopping the bioweapon and vax viral component replication and oxygen-enzyme activity? What do you have that will "zap" and zombify the bioweapon pathogen microbes allowing them to become a secondary immune system for your protection? What else do you have that will provide dozens of other health benefits that include strengthening your immune system? Would that be Big Pharma drugs? Using antiviral drugs (like Ivermectin) will chase the sophisticated binary bioweapon into hiding to wait for AI-5G activation.

To my knowledge, the only way to neutralize bioweapon and bioweapon vax threats is to keep Weight Chart doses of Nano Silver and Sodium Borate in our systems for the duration. Nano Silver can be stored at room temperature in a dark place and have a 20-year shelf life unlike any drug produced by the genocidal monsters killing us with their bioweapons. My recommendation is that you put down the disinformation and step back from the propaganda and stay on the Nano Silver-Sodium Borate regimen. The Black Star will be here soon enough, and the objective is to be counted among the living when everything changes in the twinkling of an eye. :0) Blessings, Terral

Simple, Inexpensive Hydroponics: The Kratky Method

Submitted by Terral

June 9, 2020 by fifthseason

-Jordan Capps-

Howdy doody pandemic pals! I know these stay-at-home orders have thrown everybody for a loop, so I'd like to take the time to discuss the Kratky method, an easy—and cheap!—way to start a simple indoor garden at home. With just a few ingredients and a sunny window, you can be harvesting delicious leafy greens in almost no time!

Named after B.A. Kratky, the kratky method is entirely passive, which means it requires no pumps of any sort. The nutrient solution remains stagnant, which is typically a dirty word, but as the plants drink from their small reservoir and the water level drops, an air gap grows between the nutrient solution and the plant itself, allowing the plant to breathe without oxygenating the reservoir. Simple!

Kratky Method Of Hydroponics

A one-gallon pickle jar is an excellent option for a reservoir, giving more pH and ec stability than a smaller quart jar, and allowing you to go the entire growth cycle of an average leafy green without refreshing the nutrient solution. Set it and forget it (for the most part)! Our 3.75 inch net cups nest just about perfectly within the opening to our gallon jars, so that's the size that we're gonna shoot for in this grow. If going with an alternatively sized jar, you want a net cup that fits completely within the opening, but doesn't fall through into the jar itself. Some experimentation may be needed. Hydroton makes for a perfect medium in which to nest your starter plug of choice.

Ingredients

- Pickle jar \(1 gallon\)
- 3.75 inch net cup
- Hydroton Starter plugs (Coco coir, peat, rockwool, etc..)
- Leafy green seeds (lettuces, spinach, herbs, etc..)
- Ph test kit (Ph test pen, indicator solution, or test strips)

- Ph up and/or down, depending on ph of water from your source
- Nutrient solution (Flora Series from General Hydroponics is a simple and affordable option)
- 10x20 flat tray and inserts
- Humidome

Instructions

1. Start seed in a moist starter plug, inside a humidome. Keep the plug consistently moist, misting if it gets dry. Once you have a sprout (~5 days,) you may remove the dome and continue misting the plug as required to maintain moisture.
2. Once you have approximately one inch of root coming out of the bottom of the plug, you may transplant the seedling into the net cup, filling in around the seedling with hydroton.
3. Mix nutrient solution according to manufacturer's instructions (Ph final solution to between 5.5 and 6.5) and fill jar so that solution reaches to just underneath the starter plug, but not touching the plug itself. You want the end of the root to be submerged in solution.

4. Watch your plant grow! As the plant grows and drinks from the jar, the solution level will lower itself, revealing more and more air space from which the plant can breathe. The root growth should keep pace with the lower solution, leading to a completely hands-off grow!

Most lettuces and leafy greens should be ready for harvest before the nutrient solution is fully exhausted, but if deciding to grow vegetables with a longer harvest period, you'll have to periodically replenish your reservoir. It's really that simple. Thought you couldn't get into hydroponics? Thought you didn't have room in your life for any new hobbies? Think again!

1000+ PREPPERBOOKS on Google Drive

by Paul Farrell

September 06, 2019

I began prepping and stocking food at the request of the Holy Spirit last year. Not necessarily for myself but for those left behind after the Rapture or SHTF. I began buying extra food each month and storing it away. I write the month and year on the can/pkg so I know when I got them. I found a local spring and now keep about 40 gallons of water in my Public Housing 1 BR apt.

This year, I started to also to collect Prepper Books from the internet. They come in different formats, so I also downloaded software to convert all to PDF format. I have over 1000 books now and am pleased to offer them to Terral03.com supporters at no cost. Just use this link to my Google Drive and download whatever you want. You can even download entire folders at a time. I will continue to add more folders and files as necessary. Here is the link:

<https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/131T0UF1OY0GdqGeymtPndlqx3v3hq7Wg?usp=sharing>

I only came across Terral BlackStar in August of this year and have learned much already. I previously watched Mary Greeley and Dutchsinse for about two years on YouTube - but now put my trust in Terral and the Project Black Star Program. Terral is very good at explaining what is happening with the Black Star and Magma-plume Dynamics/Mechanics as many of you have absorbed his vast knowledge as well. I look forward to joining Rebecca's Survival Group early in October and am already downsizing my "worldly possessions" to necessary Survival items.

I watch Prepper Videos and make lists of good ideas and items I may need. For example, instead of buying Fireproof matches - I buy regular matches and paint the tops with Dollar Store Nail Polish. This is my project for this week (Sept 1-6). I start my search at the Dollar Store and work my way up to Walmart, Harbor Freight, etc. Although on a fixed-disabled income, I regularly contribute to Jeff Bezos' wealth by supporting Amazon.com and compare prices on eBay as well.

Anyhow, I am glad to be on board and hope to bring in many new members to the team. I look forward to speaking and working with many of you in the future.

Godspeed and Blessings to you all. Paul Farrell paulfarrelldesigns@gmail.com

- Medical, Dental, Naturalist, Holistic, Veterinarian, Mechanical, Agricultural, Farm, Gardening and many other Survival and building skills.
- Recommendations may be made to help each family prepare for long term off the grid survival. Every member will agree to have minimum one-year supply of food, water and seed stored for each person and secure it on the property of The New Mexico/Texas Survival Group Program.

Our property offers a staging area for member's to lease & purchase for their underground bunkers with built-in self efficient utilities such as air filtration, water supply and power that can last for years although, you can also choose above ground bomb domes but having both is most recommended for the best survival strategy for all the extreme weather conditions and temperatures.

- Phase I is planning which includes land surveys for expanding on the property and developing a staging area. This includes electricity, water wells and septic systems that members can install at their cost as long as they abide by all county guidelines, rules, and permit approvals when needed. Those members who are approved through the application process will be invited to join us in the staging area. No one will be allowed on the property without an invitation from Group Leadership showing they have completed their application process and have been approved by the Survival Group LLC board.
- Phase II requires investor's to join in order to include the construction of the potential community center with bathrooms, showers, laundry room, and a shared recreation center. This phase will also include any expansion of the infrastructure needed as the number of members grow and create an increase demand for expansion.
- Phase III are potential plans as financing permits from investors and donations would include i.e. a greenhouse, storage garages, underground containers, barn and farm that will allow us to become a completely self-sustaining community.
- Email us if interested in joining our Survival Group and to find out the fees associated with Survival Group LLC. Feel free to contact us if you have questions. We strive to keep member costs low and improve the living standards of all members. We will offer a discount to the first members to join now as pricing will increase with demand. This will be a very popular & desired survival group location for surrounding states due to its proximity and weather.

We are open for members to join and store their supplies on or under the ground.

We are looking for Volunteers, Investors & Donations to go towards the Survival Group plans.

Please go to the website <https://www.terral03.com> to subscribe to the Newsletter-Survival Group Programs and become a member to be put on the list.

José Extends an Invitation to Join the European Survival Group Program

Written by José

July 09, 2019

Hello Terral, and Friends of the European survival Group,

I am writing from Spain and Portugal, I send you this e-mail, for those, who are still looking for a Refuge in Spain or Portugal.

I just bought, a Quinta or Rancho of almost 10 hectares, near Évora (Portugal) and near Badajoz (Spain), it is a Good Area to find a Refuge, for what is coming in a short time, there are many places, and the Area is Safe, quiet and the Economic Cost of Purchase or Rent is very accessible.

I can help you, dedicating time, effort and enough resources, to find in a short time, a PLACE for a Group of people, really determined to save their families and their life's, if necessary.

But I will have to charge fees, for my effort and the people of my salvation Group, who will work on this Project. We know the Zone, the language, the legislation, and the customs of the people of the place well.

While waiting for your kind response, receive a cordial greeting, count on me for what you need. Blessings,
José

>>>>> EN ESPAÑOL <<<<<<

Hola Amigos del European Survival Group,

Os escribo desde España y Portugal,

Os envío este Correo-e, para los que todavía estáis buscando un Refugio en España o Portugal.

Acabo de Comprar una Quinta o Rancho de casi 10 Hectáreas, cerca de Évora (Portugal) y cerca de Badajoz (España), es una buena Zona para Encontrar un Refugio para lo que se avecina en Breve Tiempo, hay muchos sitios y la Zona es Segura, Tranquila y el coste de Compra o Alquiler es Accesible.

Yo puedo ayudaros, dedicándole tiempo, esfuerzo y recursos suficientes, para encontrar en Breve Plazo, un LUGAR para un Grupo de Personas, Realmente decididas a Salvar sus Familias, y si es Preciso su Vida.

Pero, tendré que cobrar unos Honorarios por mi esfuerzo y las Personas de mi Grupo de Salvación, que van a Trabajar en este Proyecto. Nosotros conocemos bien la Zona, el Idioma, la Legislación y las Costumbres de la Gente del Lugar.

A la espera de vuestra amable respuesta, recibid un cordial saludo, contad conmigo para lo que Necesitéis.

Bendiciones, José
